VALID OR INVALID BAPTISM?

The following is a list of baptisms in a non-Catholic ecclesial community that are considered by the Roman Catholic Church as validly conferred, as both water (pouring, sprinkling, or immersing the one baptized) and the Trinitarian formula (“I baptize you in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit”) are used. Also, the minister must intend to do what the Roman Catholic Church does when baptizing.

EASTERN CHURCHES IN COMMUNION WITH ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

Baptism and confirmation conferred in the Eastern Churches are always valid. It is sufficient to establish the fact that the Baptism was administered. Valid Confirmation is always administered at the same time as Baptism. Usually, the child also receives First Communion at the time of Baptism.

The Eastern Churches in Communion with Roman Catholic Church include:

- The Alexandrian Rite = The Coptic Catholic Church and The Ethiopian Catholic Church

- The Antiochene Rite (West Syrian) = The Malankara (Malankarese) Catholic Church, The Maronite Catholic Church, The Syrian (Syriac) Catholic Church

- The Armenian Rite = The Armenian Holy Apostolic Church

- The Chaldean Rite (East Syrian) = The Chaldean Catholic Church, The Syro-Malabar Catholic Church
- The Byzantine Rite, also known as the Rite of Constantinople = The Melkite Catholic Church, The Byzantine Slovak Catholic Church, The Byzantine Ukrainian Catholic Church, The Albanian Catholic Church, The Byelorussian Catholic Church, The Bulgarian Catholic Church, The Greek Catholic Church, The Italo-Albanian Catholic Church, The Byzantine Yugoslav Catholic Church, The Russian Catholic Church, The Byzantine-Romanian Catholic Church, The Ruthenian Catholic Church

NB: The initiation rites conferred by the Eastern Churches not in communion with Rome are considered valid rites. The churches included in this are any of the Orthodox Churches and the Assyrian Churches of the East (also known as the Nestorian Church).

A faithful who wishes to enter into the Roman Catholic Church from an Eastern Church not in communion with Roman Catholic Church does not become a Latin rite Church, but rather a member of the ritual rite indicated by their baptism. For instance, a Russian Orthodox becomes a Russian Catholic; a Syrian Orthodox a Syrian Catholic, and so on.

The Roman Catholic Church recognizes all the sacraments of the Eastern rites. A child receives all of the rites of initiation (Eucharist and Confirmation) when baptized so a person should never be reconfirmed. Instead, after catechesis, they would simply make a profession of faith.

Also, it is important to read a baptismal certificate thoroughly. On occasion, a certificate may read that the person has been baptized Roman Catholic.

The Roman Catholic norm for valid baptism must follow the proper matter and form. The “matter” for baptism is water either by immersion or pouring. The “form” is the Trinitarian formula (cf. c. 849 and 850 CIC). Please, always ensure that this has been followed.

If the rituals or established customs of a church or community prescribe baptism by immersion, pouring, sprinkling together with the Trinitarian formula (in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit), doubt can only arise if the minister did not observe the regulations of his or her own church or community.
